The Department of Global Health at the University of Washington, which bridges the Schools of Medicine and Public Health, is recruiting new faculty members for the following position:

- Two Assistant Teaching Professor positions in Global Health

We are seeking highly motivated, impact-driven, creative, and collaborative individuals to join our faculty. The Department of Global Health values and honors excellence in teaching, mentoring, and service in order to achieve our mission:

To improve health for all through research, education, training, and service; to understand and address the causes of disease and health inequities at multiple levels; and to collaborate with partners to develop and sustain locally-led, quality health systems, programs and policies.

We are particularly interested in continuing to expand faculty expertise, skills, and experience in the following areas:

- Provide innovative and effective instruction for undergraduate and graduate students in foundational global health and public health courses
- Support DGH mission and SPH and SOM teaching priorities of advancing health equity
- Increase DGH instructional capacity and curriculum quality.
- Provide mentorship
- Contribute to the department's mission, community, and culture

Priority deadline: December 13, 2022

Our commitment to diversity, health equity and inclusion

We are committed to a future that is free of health inequities, that promotes the highest level of wellness for the communities we serve, and a diverse and inclusive public health workforce that embodies humility, respect, leadership and service on behalf of, and with, the diverse communities we are privileged to serve.